The Crossroads Building, Clermont, Florida

As part of the overall Arts District in Downtown Clermont, the Crossroads Building is a proposed downtown infill mixed-use building. The building will be separated into two structures where an existing historic live oak tree frames a courtyard space where outdoor dining is envisioned. Set on an incline the building steps down to meet accessibility requirements, and is reminiscent of older buildings in historic European villages. The Crossroads will become a new center for commercial and retail activity in Downtown Clermont.
