Kindred Center, Osceola County, Florida

Located along Cross Prairie Parkway in Osceola County, Florida, Kindred Center is the new center for the Kindred PUD. This development contains multifamily apartments, mixed-use, retail, office, and multifamily casitas. The new Kindred Center will provide much needed diversity in housing options for the rapidly growing area, as well as opportunities for shopping and dining, along with plenty of open spaces and parks for residents and visitors. The layout of Kindred Center follows the original regulating plan with a network of streets forming a grid, which are framed by buildings. Parking is screened behind buildings on the interior of the blocks, creating a walkable built environment.
