Lookout Ridge, Minneola, FL

Lookout Ridge is a residential community located in Minneola, Florida. The community is located in a fast-growing area in Lake County, with increasing transportation needs. In order to meet future traffic demand, roadway improvements will be made to Sugarloaf Mountain Road, including roundabouts, trails and other intersection improvements. Within lookout ridge, the community centers on a large central green space with amenities and opportunities for recreation. Changes to setbacks will create a more interesting streetscape with porches and other architectural features.
